

Barium enema

Barium enema is a test that allows your doctor to examine the lower part of your bowel using a white fluid (called barium) to coat the walls of the bowel, and air to help view the bowel wall.